NATIONAL WHIG NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT, GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT OF NEW JERSEY.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, WILLIAM A. GRAHAM. OF NORTH CAROLINA.

RESOLVED, That the Whig people of Washington, consciouthat the ground they tread is worthy of the conscirate name it bears only so long as it is peopled by men who hole to the Union of the States as the source and fountain of the bloomers of mable. to the Union of the States as the source and fountain of the blessings of public order and private right—of liberty and law—of happiness at home, and honor throughout the world; and believing that in the principles and policy of the Whig party, and in the tried patriotism of its glorious leaders, is the best safeguard of the Union from domestic discord or foreign quarrel, po HOLD PIBMLY to those principles, and will rally with ardent and united hearts around the flag of the Union, to whomsoever of these leaders it may be confided in the approaching contest.—Proceedings of a Whig meeting prior to the nomination.

It is absolutely necessary that all indebtedness to the office of the Dally American Trilegraph, prior to the 16th of August, 1852, shall be paid forthwith. An earnest appeal is hereby made to every subscriber and advertizing patron to comply with this request. Nothing short of the prompt payment of such arrears will save the undersigned from still more serious losses; and he trusts that no person, however small may be his indebtedness, will disregard this notice. Washington, Aug. 28, 1852. THOMAS C. CONNOLLY.

Mass Meeting of the Friends of Scott and Graham.

The friends of Scorr and GRAHAM in the District will hold a Mass Meeting in front of the City Hall, on THIS EVENING, the 1st of September, at 8 o'clock. The citizens of the surrounding counties are invited to attend. The meeting will be addressed by distinguished gentlemen.

WALTER LENOX, President Washington Whig Club.

Democratic Bragging.

At no period in the history of the Locofoco party have we ever seen its members so boastful of their prospects of success as at present, except in 1848-when they were defeated !- defeated with every possible advantage in their hands, and especially that of the power and patronage of the general government, which they so well know how to apply. Their professed confidence at this hour may serve to keep up the spirits of some of their own friends; but let it not affect any Whig, except so far as it can convince him that energy, zeal, and devotion are called for by the interests of the Whig cause.

Never before in the history of this republic have the candidates of a party been commended to the confidence and suffrages of the American people by higher qualities than are possessed by the gentlemen whose names are upon our banners. We have every reason to look with confidence for success. But let us still work for it. Let our friends in every section of the Union labor as though upon them alone rests the responsibility of the campaign. By thus acting we shall make assurance doubly sure.

The Prospect.

We receive, says the Richmond Whig, the mos cheering news from all parts of the State. Our friends, in every quarter, are in high hopes, and are making every preparation for a triumphant fight. The Northern allies and Pierce's blunders have alarmed the people. His votes upon the subject of internal improvements, and Edmund Burke's position, his New Boston speech, his close and intimate affinity with Van Buren, his known propensity for "fainting" on the eve of great conflicts, all tend to demonstrate to the people that he is not the "man for a crisis." The Democrats say there is a "crisis" at hand, and the people desire a man of nerve, sagacity, decision, and will to be at the helm of affairs. Hence the increasing popularity of Gen. Scott. We say to our friends everywhere, that a continued effort, with enterprise and energy, is all that is wanted to SECURE VIRGINIA FOR SCOTT.

The Mass Meeting To-night!

Bright skies are above us, and everything omens well for a full and a cheerful meeting. Let every true Whig come forth and unite in the labors of his brethren. We are battling for "Liberty, the Constitution, Union-now and forever, one and inseparable;" and our great standard bearer is one who has never faltered in the presence of the foe. Let us, emulating his example, stand firmly to the task of duty, and rely with confidence upon the justice of our cause and our ability to secure its success.

An unusual number of counterfeits appear to be traveling around the country .- Exch.

Yes, a good many: secessionists and disunionists who profess to repose faith in the finality of the Compromise; old Federalists and aristocrats claiming to be Democrats; friends of British interests and enemies of American industry claiming to be patriots; men who "loathe slavery as a moral evil" professing to be its only safe protectors; and professing patriots who slander and denounce the man whom the honest men of their own party regard as one of the first and best of living men. Truly, there are counterfeits about !

The Hartford Times, the leading Locofoco organ in Connecticut, had this among similar articles in reference to General Scott. The Metropolitan Mechanics' Institute. Pursuant to notice in the public papers, an adjourned meeting of the friends of the proposed Mechanics' Institute was held at the Smithsonian Institution last evening, at 74 o'clock, Mr. Chas. F. Stansbury in the chair, and Mr. T. M. O'Brien acting as Secretary.

The committee appointed at the meeting of the 17th instant to draft a Constitution and By-laws. submitted their report. Printed copies of the proposed constitution and by-laws were distributed to those present. These instruments were severally read and adopted, article by article, and afterwards the constitution and by-laws, as whole, were unanimously adopted.

Those who desired to become members, were then invited to come forward and sign the constitution, and a majority of persons present availed themselves of the opportunity to do so.

A motion to proceed to the election of officer was then discussed, and withdrawn to give place to a motion by Mr. Lenox, that the election of officers be held on the first regular monthly meeting of the Institute, viz., the second Wednesday in September, the 8th inst., and that a committee of seven be appointed, one from each ward, to solicit subscribers to the constitution, and to take such measures as they may deem advisable to secure the attendance of a large number of members at the first monthly meeting. This motion was carried, and the following gentlemen were appointed such committee by the chair, viz. :

From the 1st ward, S. Douglass.

2d " A. J. Joyce. " Francis Mohon. 4th " Walter Lenox.

5th " James A. Tait. 6th " Robert M. Combs. 7th " H. Amidon.

On motion, the Chairman and Secretary were added to the committee.

Mr. Joseph Bryan was then unanimously elected temporary Treasurer of the Institute, and received the initiation fees of most of those who signed the constitution.

A vote of thanks to the Secretary and Regents of the Smithsonian Institution was then unanimously adopted, and the meeting adjourned.

Our advice to our brother editors is, that they should compliment nobody who ought to advertise and does not. The "puff gratis" is claimed by one-fifth of all the people in this city who desire to be known by the public.

Small Type.

"A Subscriber" makes an appeal to the New York Tribune to print in larger type. But the Tribune is easily read. There are other papers to which the request might well be preferred. We receive several popular papers which we never read, because of the difficulty of doing so. The use of very small type has been for some years a popular error. It has been brought about by the general desire to get "the worth of one's money" in quantity, regardless of quality.

Mr. Armstrong has been elected printer of the Senate as well as the House of Representatives. The New York Express says, "the Government Printing bill will put twenty thousand dollars in the pockets of the new printer, Mr. Armstrong, of 'the Union.' The bill will give him the printing of the Senate, Honse of Representatives, and as soon as the existing contracts expire, of each and all the Executive departments. So profitable a job has not been provided in the way of public printing for a long course of years. The printing for years past has been disgraceful to Congress and the country."

Missouri.

The legislature convened at Jefferson on Mon day. An attempt was made to reunite the Benton and Anti-Benton wings of the "Democracie," but with doubtful success. The Senate elected Irvin (Benton Democrat) secretary. The House failed to elect officers. The Whigs can do nothing more there than to make choice of the "wings!"

The Game they are Playing. Aaron V. Brown, of Tennessee, in a speech,

Mr. Clay advised his son, T. H. Clay, not to vote elected. for General Scott. Mr. Clay, in his letter of August 16th, says: "My father never advised me not to vote for General Scott, and it is my intention to vote for Scott and Graham."

In his remarks, at the mass meeting in Baltimore last night, General Cass is reported to have said that "if any expected him to abuse Gen. Scott or the Whig party they were much mistaken. Gen. Scott was a gallant soldier, whose name was inscribed on the highest pages of American history.' This has lately been contradicted by some of the listeners to Gen. Cass's speech. They think the General a coward, and quite a disgrace to his

"Go IT, JERRY!"-John Van Buren was one of the speakers at the Democratic meeting in Fancuil Hall, last week, and so was Senator Clemens, of Alabama. The latter, towards the close of his speech, alluded to the Prince, as follows:

"I know (said he) that the Whig papers will say that Jere Clemens and John Van Buren [cheers] have been travelling about New England, making speeches together, [laughter;] but I am glad of it. I think Mr. Van Buren and myself have always been Democrats, because we couldn't help it. "I have been agreeably surprised by the indiations in every county through which I have passed. In every county I have met with Democrats who are determined to support the Scott and Graham ticket, and in several the numbers of these were very great. Nor is this the result of any udden phrenzy. The minds of the people are at work, and their deliberate convictions are settling down in favor of the Whig nominees. Knowing very well how the remark will be regarded by some of the sanguine Democracy around you, I yet hesitate not to make the assertion that the vote of Virginia will be cast for Scott and Graham.

"I yesterday dined at the house of a worthy old old farmer, twenty miles from here. Since the days of Jackson, he said, he had always voted what he called the Jackson ticket; but, said he, I cannot gratify the party I have voted with, by voting with them now against a Virginian, of whom every Virginian should be proud. I want, said he, to see the name of Scott triumphantly displayed as one of honor to this State, and I do not wish her to bear the reproach of deserting and forsaking him in the only hour she has ever had it in her power to serve and honor him."

The Whig Cause in California! Our thanks are tendered to Mr. E. S. SMITH, the polite and gentlemanly agent of Adams & Co.'s Express, for late California papers. The Scott and Graham flag, we perceive, waves proudly in the breeze on the shores of the Pacific. The San Francisco Journal of the 30th July says:

The beautiful flag, forty feet long, was elevated amid the most nthusiastic demonstrations. A band of music then discoursed several airs, after which a pro cession reaching away round the Plaza, walked through the principal streets, making the welkin ring with their shouts for Scott and Graham. streets were lined with coons of the same sort, who constantly echoed the cry. Windows and door-ways displayed the waving handkerchiefs of Whig ladies-(is there any other?) The procession called on our electoral candidate, D. The Cincinnati Gazette quotes the following account of Pierce from a number of the Philadelphia Saturday Courier, published in September, 1847. The Courier is a neutral paper:

The course of Mr. Webster and his "peculiar friends," is giving just cause of dissatisfaction to the Whig party of the United States. Heretofore the Whigs have treated recent movements with great forbearance. It may be that forbearance will cease to be a virtue .- Alex. Gaz.

EXTEND THE CALL.—There are two or three investigating committees of Congress now in session, under the plea of exposing official delinquency. Why, if in earnest, not go back to the origin of extra-allowances—to the days when Secretary Walker allowed pay to two different indi-viduals for performing the duty belonging to one? To the days of Democratic rule, when the Regulation of a Secretary of War could give an army officer as much pay in the way of an extra per diem and commissions as the law gives in the shape of a regular salary?

Why not inquire whether members of Congress do not take fees and per centage for prosecuting claims before the Departments—and whether they do not accept presents from lobby members whilst claims are pending before the two Houses?

Some of the opponents of General Scott speak ightly and contemptuously of the traits of be-nevolence in his character which have been given the public. Now, when we see a brave officer devoting his own pay to the relief of the widows and orphans of the men he commanded, who were killed in battle, (as General Scott did,) we are satisfied that he has a good heart; and that is a mendation with us, and would go far to cover a multitude of faults in any man. NESS. By Dr. Kitto.

"This is a work of great interest, from one of the most learned and accomplished writers of the age, revealing the mysteries of the world in which those live who have been deprived of the sense of sight or hearing. Ever since his boyhood, for more than thirty years, Dr. Kitto has passed a life of great activity as a scholar, in a state of the most intense deafness to which any living creature can be subjected. His account of himself, and of his discriminating remarks on the condition of the blind, (James Mitchell, Laura Bridgeman, and others.) are replete with profound thought on the interesting phenomenon presented in the progress of their mental training."—Christian Observer.
